Summary

The academic session has been a learning experience both for our students and the teaching and non-teaching faculty as well because we have raised ourselves from the stupor of the Pandemic memory and thrusted ourselves back into the normal routine of life once again. It was a huge challenge to bring back the normalcy that resided in our daily lives before the Pandemic set in. We are grateful to the college authorities and particularly to our students for easing out the challenge in the best possible manner setting the tone right for the future to which we proudly head together, hand in hand.
